Aeromania is the latest. We may all have it when we cross the fab-fed styx.

The duck season is now on. The goose season never quits.—Corpus Christi Herald. At Corpus Christi?

The blizzard that covered the North with snow and ice sent a faint breath of its refrigerating blast to relieve the summer heat that was prevailing over South Texas recently. The weather is perfect in the val-

In spite of the above and simitir advertisements now appearing in the columns of several state contemporaries, The Herald can discover no trace of a convention in Crownsville except in the brand of weather that has been handed out to us which is strictly in accord with tradition. Although, it is evideat that some one has blundered with regard to the convention, still we would say to would-be-delgates and other intending visitors that Browns: lile is just as attractive now without a convention as any other city in Texas is with one and it will pay them to take a trip down here he latter are bubbling sources of original information, who will be giad to take up the hours that otherwise would have been given to the evanescent convention.

ATTEMPT FLIGHT NEXT WEEK. Inventor Newman Will Take Acroplace to Lomo Alto for Trial.

In all probability Prentice A. New. man, the inventor of the Brownsville aeroplane, will make another attempt of flight during the early part of next week. Mr. Newman has abandoned the plan of making his trie! flights from West Brownsville, on account of there being so much brush along the road side as to reader it very difficult to maneauver his machine. He expects to remove his aeroplane to Lomo Alto about seven miles distant from the city the first of next week and make his next attempt at flight there.

At Lomo Alto is located a hill which Lir. Newman states has a stant of about lifty feet to the 100 yards, and he proposes to make his prothingry run down this hill, which will greatly increase the At Brownsville, State of Texas, at speed of his machine while on the the close of business on the 16th day ground Mr. Newman is unable to of November, 1909, published in the the exact date upon which he wiff make his next atempt.

審察未光以至至如至亦至如小子子 AT AT OPPORTUNITY IN BROWNSVILLE,

Judging from the advertis- S ing columns of the Brownsville Herald, that city is badly in need of a dry goods store. Here's a great opportunity for some enterprising man who un. derstands the dry goods busi-mess, as Brownsville is a city of at least 10,000 souls.—Cor-pus Christi Herald.

That's the truth. Brownsville has a few small dry goods : houses, but none that are far-nighted enough to see that ther might make themselves greater by advertising-none That have the enterprise to aid an the promotion of their if town's development by endeav-% origing to increase their own # trade, as well as contributing W to the support of a paper that # is doing its best to build up # the town and bring them more * customers. Brownsville has a some business men, however, 坐 who are enterprising enough to advertise, and who seem to # take pride in buying advertis-崇 ing space that is worth some- S thing it is in such men as # these that the hope of Browns-* ville's business development has one of its mainstays.
